

NEW AGENDA: SOUTH AFRICAN JOURNAL OF SOCIAL AND ECONOMIC POLICY

GUIDELINES FOR WRITERS

NEW AGENDA is peer-reviewed and listed in the department of higher education and training's Index of Approved South African Journals. The journal's focus encompasses South African, African and international developments in social and economic research and policy. We aim to provide high-quality pertinent information and analysis for people in government, academia and civil society. We are dedicated to promoting democratic participation in economic, social and political life. Relevant unsolicited articles or queries are welcome.

NEW AGENDA 2017/18

New Agenda is currently seeking contributions from academics, journalists and postgraduate students on the following topics:

- Industrial Policy in South Africa and the rest of Africa
- Pan-Africanism
 - Link between African integration and industrialisation
 - Xenophobia and barriers to African integration
 - Philosophical underpinnings of Pan-Africanism
- Critical appraisal of "Radical Economic Transformation" in South Africa
- General economic policy issues in South Africa and the rest of Africa
 - Fiscal and monetary policy
 - Inequality
 - Minimum Wage
 - Basic Income Grant
- "Decolonisation" and the crisis in higher education in South Africa
- Gender and identity issues
- State Capture and Corruption in South Africa
- Land reform in South Africa
- International affairs
 - BRICS
 - US and European Politics in relation to South Africa and the rest of Africa
- History of Economics and Politics in South Africa and the rest of Africa

Articles:

Articles should be under 3000 words where possible. They should be clearly written and broadly accessible. Please keep jargon, references, notes and graphs to a minimum. Writers are responsible for the accuracy of their citations and for following "fair use" principles. The author's name, contact details and a brief biographical statement should appear only on the title page.

Articles and inquiries may be directed to Zunaid Moola, Deputy Editor at newagenda01@gmail.com .

Book reviews:

We carry brief informative reviews (+/-500 words), and occasional longer review articles of 1000-1500 words. Reviews should include full title and author information, plus publisher, date of publication and number of pages. We often receive review copies of new books. Please contact us for available titles.