NEW AGENDA: SOUTH AFRICAN JOURNAL OF SOCIAL AND ECONOMIC POLICY

NEW AGENDA aims to foster democratic participation in South Africa’s economic, social and political life by pursuing a deeper understanding of our socioeconomic system while emphasizing the need for substantive transformation. New Agenda is listed in the department of higher education and training’s Index of Approved South African Journals. The journal’s focus encompasses South African, African and international developments in social and economic research and policy. We aim to provide high-quality pertinent information and analysis for our audience in the policy arena, academia and civil society. Relevant unsolicited articles are welcome.

New Agenda is the flagship publication of the Institute for African Alternatives (IFAA). IFAA is dedicated to promoting economic transformation, non-racialism, anti-racism and gender equality, continental solidarity and African self-reliance, and youth participation in political and social discourse.

NEW AGENDA 2018/19 CALL FOR WRITERS

New Agenda is currently seeking contributions from academics, policymakers, postgraduate students and progressive civil society on the following topics:

- Economic policy issues in South Africa and the rest of Africa
- Pan-Africanism and African political economy
  - African political and economic integration
  - African industrialisation
  - Philosophical underpinnings of Pan-Africanism
- Critical appraisals of “Radical Economic Transformation” and structural transformation in South Africa
- "Decolonisation" and the crisis in higher education in South Africa
- State Capture and Corruption in South Africa
- Land reform in South Africa
- International affairs and international political economy
- Gender, race and identity politics
- History of economics and politics in South Africa and the rest of Africa

Articles:

Articles should be between 2500-5000 words. They should be clearly written and broadly accessible. Please keep jargon and technical graphs to a minimum. Writers are responsible for the accuracy of their citations and for following “fair use” principles. We use Chicago end-note reference style. The author’s name, contact details and a brief biographical statement should appear only on the title page.

Inquiries may be directed to the Deputy Editor at deputyeditor@ifaaza.org. Unsolicited articles should be submitted via our google form.

Book reviews:

We carry brief informative reviews (+/-500 words), and occasional longer review articles of 1000-1500 words. Reviews should include full title and author information, plus publisher, date of publication and number of pages. Please contact us for available titles.